Determining the impeller diameter after removal of the coolant pump

The engines listed can have a coolant pump with an impeller diameter of 70 mm or 74 mm installed. The two designs appear to be identical. The only way to differentiate between the two accurately is to measure the impeller diameter after removal of the coolant pump.

Impeller diameter	Part number	KIT number
70 mm	538 0373 10	530 0197 30
74 mm	538 0047 10	530 0197 31

Please observe the vehicle manufacturer specifications!
